Re: 2006 Fee Structure

After much consideration and analysis of camp costs, the Camp Council has implemented a new fee structure for those who lease lots, own cabins or use camp cabins or rooms at Blackhills Family Camp. While utilities, insurance and many other costs have increased drastically over the past several years, camp fees have risen only slightly. There are many fixed costs that must be paid, regardless of camp usage. While we still must heavily rely on the financial support received from camp offerings and gifts, our new fee structure is designed to more closely match operational costs with camp fees. To minimize the impact, the new fee structure will be implemented over the next 2 years.

Our ultimate goal is to allow more offering and gift monies to be used for camp improvement.

While reviewing the new fee structure, please keep in mind that it will cost Blackhills Camp over $260 per camper to operate family camp this year.

New Fee for 2006

Lot Fee $20

This fee will be assessed to every lot holder, even if a unit has not yet been built. Please keep in mind that all property is owned by the Blackhills Camp with the right to place a cabin, for use during camp functions, granted to individuals.

Cabin/Room/RV Fee $25

This fee will be assessed for every cabin or room (private or camp owned) and RV/Camper/Tent.

Please note that our costs are incurred, even if units are not used, therefore fees are assessed on every unit regardless of usage.

Please note: We have had inquiries about places to stay for Family Camp this year. If you do not plan on using your private unit, we would be more than happy to rent it for you – just let us know!

For camp room holders, please notify us if you do not plan on using your room this year so we may let others use it. If we have not heard from you, we reserve the right to rent unused camp property to others seeking rooms at camp.
